

Since You Lost Interest

Since you lost interest
I've been doing just fine
Except when I almost lost my mind
But that time's over now

Since you lost interest
I wake up everyday
Feeling something's gone away
I never had, anyhow

They say time makes you wiser
But maybe that was just a lie
Things can't make you happy
But only people make you cry

Since we lost contact
I've been learning 'bout myself
Taking care of my health
And working out everyday

Since we lost contact
I keep feeling like a spark
That once lit up my heart
Is just an ash in my headache now

They say time makes you wiser
But maybe that was just a lie
Things can't make you happy
But only people make you cry

Illusions can't be real
Conundrums, they don't feel
And mysteries don't always get explained
You seemed to be so kind
You were always on my mind
But in a flash you went and changed

Since you moved onward
I'm left here with your cat
And a painting that is crap
Hanging on my wall

Since you moved onward

Sometimes you telephone
Just to see if I'm alone
Feeling sorry for myself
(I'm not feeling sorry for myself)

Well, good luck finding true love
But I bet you never do
'Cause love comes from inside
And there's no center inside of you
